A Symposium

UNIVERSITATEA DIN
BUCURESTI
&
MERCER UNIVERSITY

30 Septembrie 2019 - 10:30

Brief history of the relationship

In 2017 the University of Bucharest expressed an interest in building a relationship with Mercer University. In 2018 a delegation from Bucharest University, led by Rector Mircea Dumitru visited Mercer University campuses in Macon and Atlanta and a Memorandum of Understanding was signed.

The University of Bucharest is glad to be the host of this first joint symposium. As an initiative of the two universities, the hope is that it will further strengthen the cooperation between our academic communities, as part of an ongoing journey of partnership.

The expressed desire for this cooperation is to open up discussions beyond the university through which the academic communities desire to engage more with the life of society and provide a space for debate and fruitful reflection.
